

got food?

Aloha Harvest has been around for over 16 years and have rescued over 16 million pounds of food that would have otherwise gone into our landfills.

"Food is an essential basic need for survival and is a vital resource that should never be wasted. Aloha Harvest is our community's solution that partners with various restaurants and businesses in town to rescue excess food to those who need it most."

- Bob Harrison

Bob Harrison, First Hawaiian Bank Chairman and CEO, is currently the Emeritus Chair of Aloha Harvest but has been the Board Chair since 1999.
